Delta Variant Facts

- Delta variant now represents >83% of all infections and is 2-3X more infectious
- Unvaccinated people are a high risk for infection from the Delta variant
- Infected individuals can spread the virus to others for a longer time than prior variants, as long as seven to 10 days
- Infected individuals with the Delta variant without symptoms (asymptomatic) or mild symptoms can spread the virus to others
- The Delta variant is just as likely as prior variants to cause symptoms, hospitalizations, death and other complications such as long COVID syndrome.

Vaccines Continue to Show Good Effectiveness Against the Delta

- Outbreak investigation at party held indoors
 - 72% of unvaccinated got delta COVID and
 - 18% vaccinated got COVID
- Effectiveness of the vaccine against hospitalizations

Age Group	Pfizer-BioNTech	Moderna	Janssen
65–74 years	96%	96%	84%
75 years and older	91%	96%	85%

- COVID recovered individuals are 2.3x more likely to get reinfected compared to fully vaccinated with mRNA vaccine
